

investigation opened after the indictment on the internet of relatives of Prince Albert

 new.in-24.com/entertainment/celebrities/175267.html

Celebrities

October 28, 2021

Internet sites denouncing the practices of Monegasque personalities are trying to “destabilize the Principality and take control of the Rock”, according to a source familiar with the matter.

A preliminary investigation was opened in Monaco and entrusted to the police of the Principality after the filing of a criminal complaint against the questioning on the internet of several relatives of Prince Albert, AFP learned Thursday (October 28) from the public prosecutor’s office. Monegasque.

Read also Confidential Monaco, intimate visit with its inhabitants and talents

For ten days or so, websites based abroad, including a site called “The Rock Files” Denounce practices of “Monegasque personalities, politicians and influential businessmen“, With the final goal of “manipulate and influence the institutions of Monaco in their own interests“, The daily explained Thursday Monaco-Morning (group Nice morning).

Didier Linotte, president of the Supreme Court of the Principality, Laurent Anselmi, government advisor-Minister of External Relations, as well as two relatives of Prince Albert II, his lawyer Thierry Lacoste and Claude Palmero, the administrator of his goods. The various sites, which take the form of fake media, are hosted in Iceland and the United States according to a source familiar with the matter. Via their publications, they question “probity and loyalty” Of the four men, the accusations then being relayed on social networks by accounts created for this operation.

«Breach of professional secrecy»

The investigation was opened after the filing of a criminal complaint in Monaco by Me Marie-Alix Canu-Bernard, lawyer for the four people concerned, in particular for “correspondence violation” and “breach of professional secrecy“. The lawyer filed “additional complaints due to new broadcasts“, She told AFP on Thursday. In addition, civil complaints were filed Wednesday in Paris, in particular for “defamation», «false accusations” and “slandorous accusations“AFP learned from Me Luc Brossollet, who defends Thierry Lacoste, while his partner Olivier d’Antin defends Didier Linotte. Regarding Thierry Lacoste, “another complaint will be filed tomorrow (Friday) for correspondence violation and hacking», Clarified Me Brossollet.

Read also Monaco first European city to integrate all transport in a single app

The Prince’s Palace, contacted by AFP, did not give an official reaction, referring to the interview granted by Prince Albert to Monaco-Morning, in which he condemned a “defamatory and anonymous rumor campaign targeting several servants of the Principality».

According to a source familiar with the matter, this campaign aims to “destabilize the Principality and take control of the Rock“And”prevent a series of appointments and a government reshuffle”Envisaged at the end of November, just after the National Day on November 19. On this occasion, according to the same source, Prince Albert would like “parting with old local politicians to thoroughly renew the government team and bring out new talents».